Thoughts for Today's Readings "With a Prayer..."

Sunday Food for Your Soul

Palm Sunday Year A begins the journey of Holy Week, the most important time in the Church year. The readings show both the joy of Jesus' entry into Jerusalem and the suffering he faced in his final days. The people welcomed him as a king, but soon he was betrayed, denied, and sentenced to death. His suffering was not only physical but also emotional and spiritual. He experienced rejection, abandonment, and humiliation. Yet through it all, he remained faithful and trusted in God.

Suffering and Abandoned

The readings for Palm Sunday Year A show the joy of Jesus' arrival in Jerusalem and the deep suffering he faced in the days that followed. The people welcomed him with cheers, waving palm branches and calling him their king. But soon, everything changed. He was betrayed, arrested, and sentenced to death. The same crowds that praised him later called for his crucifixion.

Jesus endured pain, rejection, and humiliation. He was beaten, mocked, and left to carry his cross alone. Even his closest friends abandoned him. Peter, who had promised to stand by him, denied knowing him three times. Judas, one of his own disciples, betrayed him for money. In his suffering, Jesus felt completely alone.

On the cross, Jesus cried out, asking why God had forsaken him. This moment shows his deep pain, but it also connects him to anyone who has ever felt abandoned. People sometimes feel distant from God in times of suffering. Jesus understands this because he experienced it himself.

Even in his darkest hour, Jesus remained faithful. He did not fight back or seek revenge. He trusted that his suffering had meaning. Palm Sunday Year A reminds people that suffering is part of life, but they are never truly alone. Jesus knows what it is to feel abandoned, and he walks with them in their pain.

Where Am I?

Palm Sunday Year A invites people to place themselves in the story of Jesus' passion. There were many different people involved, each with their own reactions. Some welcomed Jesus with joy. Others turned against him. Some stayed close, while others ran away. It is worth asking, where would we have been?

Would we have been in the crowd, cheering for Jesus as he entered Jerusalem? Or would we have been annoyed by the commotion, not wanting our routine disturbed? When Jesus was arrested, would we have stood by him, or would we have denied knowing him like Peter?

Maybe we would have been like Simon of Cyrene, carrying the cross without wanting to, forced into service. Or perhaps like the women who stood by Jesus at the cross, refusing to leave him even when things got dangerous. Would we have helped, like Joseph of Arimathea, who gave Jesus a tomb? Or would we have joined the crowd in mocking him?

Palm Sunday Year A challenges people to reflect on their own faith. Do they stand by Jesus only when it is easy, or do they follow him even when it is hard? It is easy to say we love God, but our actions show where we truly stand.

Am I Willing to Follow?

The readings for Palm Sunday Year A show that following Jesus is not always easy. He does not promise an easy life. He asks people to follow him in humility and service, even when it leads to suffering. Are we willing to follow him in this way?

Jesus showed what true love looks like. He put others before himself. He accepted suffering instead of running from it. He forgave even those who hurt him. This is not the way of the world. The world teaches people to seek power, comfort, and success. Jesus teaches them to serve, sacrifice, and love.

It is easy to admire Jesus from a distance. It is harder to live as he did. Following him means choosing kindness over selfishness, patience over anger, and trust over fear. It means carrying our own crosses, whatever they may be. It means forgiving when it is difficult and loving even those who hurt us.

Palm Sunday Year A asks a simple but difficult question: Are we willing to follow Jesus, no matter the cost? He showed the way, but each person must choose whether to walk it.

The passion story is not just about the past—it challenges people today. It asks them to reflect on their own faith, their willingness to follow Jesus, and their response to suffering. Palm Sunday Year A reminds them that true greatness comes from humility and love. As Holy Week begins, they are invited to walk with Jesus, to stand by him in his suffering, and to follow his example of selfless love.

STEWARDSHIP MINUTE

Stewardship Opportunities

“As they were marching out, they came upon a man of Cyrene, Simon by name; this man they pressed into service to carry his cross.” MATTHEW 27:32

The Lord calls us to love God and to love our neighbor. Every day we are presented with Stewardship opportunities to love our neighbor and help him “carry his cross.” These opportunities aren’t usually big events, they are usually ordinary occurrences like helping someone carry their groceries or holding the door open for them. The key is putting the other person’s needs before our own and not expecting anything in return.

Palm Sunday Food for Thought

Where Have You Been? (Reflection on the Passion of Jesus Christ)

Palm Sunday Year A tells the story of Jesus' suffering and the choices people made around him. Some stayed silent, afraid to speak up. Others denied him or followed the crowd. Jesus stood alone, accepting pain and rejection without fighting back. His silence before his accusers showed his trust in God's plan. The readings remind people to ask themselves where they would have stood in that moment.

Palm Sunday Year A also invites people to respond to Jesus personally. He looks at them, just as he looked at his followers long ago, and asks them to walk with him. He does not promise comfort, but he promises his presence. Each person must choose whether to stay in the background or step forward in faith. Jesus' suffering was not just a past event—it is a call to stand with him, to follow him, and to remain close even when it is difficult.

Sacrifice and Love

Palm Sunday Year A begins Holy Week by showing the joy and sorrow of Jesus' journey to the cross. In the procession of the palms, we see Jesus entering Jerusalem as a humble and peaceful king, riding on a donkey. Crowds celebrate Him, waving palm branches and calling Him the Son of David. This fulfills Old Testament prophecies about the Messiah and shows Jesus as a leader who comes to save.

The Gospel readings for Palm Sunday Year A also remind us of the cost of this salvation. We see Jesus' betrayal, arrest, trial, and crucifixion. His humility and obedience in the face of suffering and abandonment show His great love for humanity. Jesus even quotes Psalm 22 on the cross, crying out to God in His pain. Yet, the psalm ends in hope, reminding us of God's presence, even in suffering.

The readings invite us to reflect on our own response to Jesus' sacrifice. They ask us to consider whether we follow His example of love and selflessness. Holy Week is a chance to deepen our relationship with God and prepare for Easter by trusting in His presence and protection, even during hard times.

As we enter Holy Week, take time to reflect on the readings for Palm Sunday Year A. Think about Jesus' sacrifice and how it impacts your life. Consider how you respond to His call to love, humility, and faith.

The next step in the Archdiocesan Restructuring process is for every parish in the Archdiocese of Detroit to host two parish listening sessions. At these sessions, we will review potential models and provide feedback. Our parish listening sessions will be in the church social hall on these two dates only:

- April 14, 2026 from 6pm to 9pm
- April 16, 2026 from 6pm to 9pm

You only need to attend ONE of the sessions as the same information will be reviewed at both sessions. Registration is now open. Please plan to attend one of these sessions regarding the future of St. Charles and our entire Detroit Eastside Family of Parishes. These are the only sessions for St. Charles. They will not be livestreamed as each session is tailored for the individual parish.

Preventing Falls: Simple Steps for Staying Safe

Falls are one of the most common causes of injury, especially as we grow older. The good news is that many falls can be prevented with a few simple habits and small changes at home.

Start by keeping your living space safe. Make sure walkways are clear of clutter, loose rugs, and electrical cords. Good lighting is also important—especially in hallways, stairways, and bathrooms. Installing grab bars in the bathroom and using handrails on stairs can provide extra stability.

Staying physically active can also help prevent falls. Gentle activities such as walking, stretching, or balance exercises strengthen muscles and improve coordination. Regular movement helps keep the body steady and confident.

It's also wise to review medications with your doctor or pharmacist, as some medicines may cause dizziness or drowsiness. Wearing supportive, non-slip shoes both inside and outside the home can make a big difference as well.

Finally, don't hesitate to ask for help when you need it. Whether it's carrying something heavy, reaching a high shelf, or walking on uneven ground, a little assistance can prevent a serious injury.

Taking a few simple precautions today can help keep you safe, active, and independent. Let's look out for one another and take steps to prevent falls in our homes and our community.

Don't forget about our Blood Pressure screening today after mass in the church hall. Please come and get it checked.

We will also be continuing with our diabetes prevention class today in the classroom from 1:30 pm to 2:30 pm.

Peace,
