Thoughts for Today's Readings "With a Prayer…"

Sunday Food for Your Soul

30th Sunday in Ordinary Time

A few years back, while attending a nephew's Lutheran confirmation service a sentence in the Pastor's sermon that day stayed with me and is something I pray about often. In his sermon, the pastor spoke of how we are all loved sinners. Something we Jesuits often teach. The Pastor told this story of how he was a Harley-Davidon rider, and that he had this biker friend who had this great tattoo. The tattoo was on his friend's left forearm, the Pastor continued, and was of a cross with the words 'Saints had a past' circling across the top, and 'sinners have a future' around the bottom. The lives of the saints, as we come to know them, well we know through their stories that they weren't always perfect vessels of grace. So, with God's love, loved sinners all, we too can become every day more and more saintly. We too can become Saints! How great is that!

Yet, sadly, I don't know about you, but I am not sure this is the world that God wishes or envisions for our souls. This is not God's wish for how we are to relate with one another, we are not too good at loving ourselves and loving our neighbor, the call for saints who love with the love of Jesus Christ is needed today more than ever. The world's heart still beats with injustice, hatred, and so much violence and other hating. Look at a newspaper to prove me wrong. Saints have a past, and sinners have a future with Christ.

Our liturgy of the word today makes no bones about it – we are called to, and this from the very mouth of Jesus, love our neighbors as ourselves. In our gospel, Jesus incarnates the love of God in a literal and very real way, and integrates this love with the call to love in 'deeds' our neighbor, all of our neighbors, everyone. For even saints have a past, and sinners, each one of us, well, with Christ we have a future filled with hope and holy transformation.

We all walk this journey called life. And on this journey each one of us faces bumps and bruises, hardships, and loss, of deep and abiding sometimes seemingly unbearable suffering. Through all of that, then, hurting souls ourselves, how can we not then be there for one another, lifting one another up, with actions of love and compassion?

God's love urges all of us to see our sisters and brothers, not as aliens, but, as our reading from Exodus helps us to understand, as fellow souls, who are wandering with us, all of us together, through the deserts of all our lives. Saints have a past, sinners always and forever a new future with Christ. To love, not just in words, but deeds, as Saint Paul this day confirms, is hard, especially when those we are called to love are strange to us, foreign, alien. Yet, who knows the endless possibility and hope for transformation, our love, when we love in our deeds, of how that love can make a difference, and make a difference for the good, for God.

May we then find the capacity to rejoice, as we love our God with all of our hearts, and our sisters and brothers as ourselves, and may we hold these words from the poet and philosopher, Henri-Frédéric Amiel, in our hearts as our forever mantra – "Life is short and we have never too much time for gladdening the hearts of those who are traveling the dark journey with us. Oh be swift to love, make haste to be kind."

STEWARDSHIP MINUTE

Stewardship Priority

"Render therefore to Caesar the things that are Caesar's and to God the things that are God's.
- MATTHEW 22:21

Everything we are and everything we have belongs to God. We aren't "owners" of anything, we are merely "stewards" of the gifts God has given each of us. All God is asking is that we give back a portion of what He gave us. This is the essence of Stewardship. God should be our first priority in everything. All else comes second, especially our money.

Prayer for Our Archdiocese – October 2026

Prayer for the Archdiocese of Detroit

Heavenly Father, as the Archdiocese of Detroit continues through this time of renewal and restructuring, guide us with Your wisdom and grace. Strengthen our Archbishop, clergy, parish leaders, and all the faithful as we seek to follow Your will. Heal our fears, deepen our unity, and help us trust in Your loving plan.

Open our hearts to the guidance of the Holy Spirit, that we may embrace this season of change with faith, hope, and charity. Help us to support one another with patience and understanding, always keeping our eyes fixed on Christ and His mission. May this time of transition bear abundant fruit, renewing our parishes and strengthening our witness to the Gospel.

Through the intercession of Mary, Mother of the Church, may we grow ever stronger in faith and mission, bringing the hope of Christ to all. Through Christ our Lord. Amen.

ARCHDIOCESE OF DETROIT

Archdiocesan Restructuring

Thank You!

We are deeply grateful to the lay faithful across the Archdiocese of Detroit for your generous participation during this important phase of the restructuring process. More than 40,000 parishioners attended 412 parish listening sessions, and over 17,000 individuals shared their feedback through the survey. Thank you for the time you have invested, the insights and experiences you have shared, and the spirit of faith with which you have engaged this process. Your continued prayers, participation, and commitment to the Church are helping us discern together how best to strengthen our parishes and advance the mission of Christ throughout southeast Michigan.

What Happens Next? Parish Modeling Refinement

Throughout August and September, all of the feedback and data received was reviewed, organized, and analyzed. The restructuring team, consultative bodies, and the Catholic Leadership Institute are now working together to evaluate that input and prepare for the next phase of the process: the refinement of the parish models.

Round 1: Faithful
APRIL-JULY 2026

Priests, faithful, volunteer facilitators, KPLs, PPOC, Curia, Parish Renewal & CLI

Round one draft models were developed during the Priests' Discernment Workshop in January and subsequently shared with the faithful through parish listening sessions and the restructuring website. Feedback was collected through the listening sessions, an online survey, and various consultative bodies, ensuring that the perspectives of clergy, parish leaders, and the lay faithful were incorporated into the refinement process.

Round 2: Parishes
SEPTEMBER-NOVEMBER 2026

Priests, KPLs, deacons, Parish Renewal & CLI

Round one draft models will be refined with input from consultative bodies, priests, deacons, lay ministers, and the lay faithful. The refined Round two draft models will be released in October 2026 at RESTRUCTURING.AOD.ORG. Pastors and Key Parish Leaders will then be invited to give additional feedback. After further refinement, the final recommended models will be presented to the Archdiocesan Restructuring Commission and then to Archbishop Weisenburger for his discernment as he considers the future configuration of parishes across the Archdiocese.

Final Announcement
APRIL 17-18, 2027

Archbishop Weisenburger

Archbishop Weisenburger will enter a time of prayerful discernment, carefully considering the proposed parish models and the feedback received from clergy, parish leaders, and the lay faithful. After completing this discernment, he will announce the final restructuring models and priest assignments during the weekend of April 17-18, 2027.

Model Refinement FAQs

WHAT HAPPENS IN REFINEMENT?

Once all of the feedback has been read, the Modeling Team, together with a select group of priests and lay leaders from each planning area, will gather to review the feedback for their planning area and refine the models. The work done in the refinement workshops will result in a set of Round two draft models for each planning area. In some cases, one or both models may remain the same as the Round one draft models that were shared at parish listening sessions. In other cases, one or both models may be new or revised in some way.

At that time, Key Parish Leaders (KPLs) and priests at each parish will gather to review the models and share their feedback. The Round two draft models will also be published to the restructuring website at this time. We anticipate that Round two draft models will be published in October 2026.

WHO IS PARTICIPATING?

We want to be transparent about how participants were selected and the perspectives represented, while also protecting the integrity of the working sessions. For that reason, we are not publishing individual participant names.

ARCHBISHOP OF DETROIT

October 2026

Dear brothers and sisters in Christ,

Since July of 1701, when Antoine de la Mothe Cadillac first stepped onto the shoreline of what would become the City of Detroit, the story of the Catholic Church here has been written through the lives of God's holy people: religious men and women who served in our parishes, schools, hospitals and retreat centers; priests who dedicated their lives to ministering to God's people; and generations of faithful Catholics who have lived their faith through Word, Sacrament, charity and service.

What a story it has been.

Today, we stand at the threshold of a new chapter in our long and remarkable history. As you know, the Archdiocese of Detroit is in the second half of a two-year process of restructuring. This past spring, we shared draft pastorate models and opened the doors to your feedback. More than 40,000 parishioners attended 412 listening sessions, and 17,000 provided additional feedback through our online survey over the summer.

I would like to share with you where we are and what comes next.

First, and among our greatest treasures, our priests.
As part of the restructuring, all parish priests will receive new assignments, with only a very few exceptions—primarily the four newly ordained priests and five pastors who were newly assigned and moved in 2026. Our priests have been informed of the broad reassignment process that will take place next summer and have been asked to begin planning for a smooth transition.

I cannot overstate my gratitude for their faithful leadership. Their spirit of sacrifice, unity, and service is a powerful witness, not only to our local Church today but also to the generations of priests who will follow them. I know, too, that while we have great faith in the Lord's never-failing help, facing the reality of these priest transfers can be challenging.

Our priests forge deep bonds with those they serve, and those relationships are a treasured part of parish life.

But this movement of priests is important and intentional. As we form new pastorates, we need to look at the needs of newly formed pastorates as a whole and match the gifts, experience, and abilities of our priests with the communities they will serve. This gives both our priests and our parish communities an opportunity for a fresh start together, laying a foundation on which ministries and relationships from prior communities can be successfully blended into one.

This approach of a true fresh beginning for all has proven absolutely essential in dioceses where restructuring has known great success. And while it asks much of our priests, it is a sacrifice they are making as brothers of one, unified presbyterate, for you, the faithful whom they are committed to serve with great fidelity. I ask that you give them your full support as they take their leave from their current assignments and, as these new pastorates are formed in July 2027, that you welcome new priests to your communities with full and loving support.

Second, a word about the pastorate models.
As you may recall, we began this process in the spring by releasing three to four draft models for each planning area of the Archdiocese of Detroit. Those models were a starting point for discussion and discernment.

We then gathered your feedback through more than 400 parish listening sessions, an online survey, and thousands of additional comments, emails, and conversations we have received over the last few months.

We have incorporated your feedback into a second round of draft models, now with two models for each planning area. Some models may be revised, some may be entirely new, and others may remain unchanged from Round 1. In late October, you can view these Round 2 models by visiting restructuring.aod.org.

Once again, these are still draft models. The pastorate groupings are not final. Rather, these models are an opportunity to see how your feedback is helping to shape this important process. I pray you will see in this next round of draft models that we truly listened, took your feedback to heart, and did our best to let it shape where we are today.

One example of your feedback was that the phrase "no weekend Masses" in the Round 1 models raised questions about what that would actually mean for the future of these communities.

As we move into the next stage of refining the models, we are now able to provide greater clarity. In the refined models, you will continue to see some locations identified as having "no weekend Masses." For those locations, this means they would be combined with another parish, or with other parishes in the pastorate, to form a single, unified parish community.

This is not a change in the overall direction of the restructuring process. Rather, it is a further clarification that is appropriate at this stage of our planning. It also aligns with much of the feedback we have heard from you as we continue working together to refine these models.

What happens next?
In October, these second-round draft models will be shared with our priests and key parish leaders for another round of feedback. From there, the material will go to the Archdiocesan Restructuring Commission for its review and feedback. The proposal will then come to me for my own prayerful discernment before a final plan is announced in April 2027.

I recognize that behind every model, every recommendation, and every decision are parish communities that people deeply love and call home. Our parishes have rich histories, and they often feel very much like members of our own families. I honor those feelings because they reflect the love you have for your faith and for the communities that have nurtured it. That love is something we carry with us as we look to the future.

For more than 300 years, Catholics in Detroit have responded to the needs of their time with faith, courage, and trust in God. Through every season, generation after generation has found new ways to live the Gospel, worship together, serve others and pass on the faith. We are part of that same story today.

This moment gives us an opportunity to ask not simply how we preserve what has been, but how we best prepare the Church of the Detroit Archdiocese for what God is calling us to become. Our hope is to build on the faith, sacrifice, and generosity of those who came before us so that generations still to come will encounter vibrant Catholic communities where they can know Christ, grow as disciples, and experience the life of the Church.

We may not see every detail of the path ahead, but we know the One who leads us. Let us move forward with faith and confidence in Christ, trusting in the Holy Spirit who has guided the Church of this Archdiocese for more than three centuries.

And let us embrace this moment together as children of God the Father, disciples of Christ the Son, and recipients of the gifts of the Holy Spirit, united in our shared vision for the future: vibrant faith communities, flourishing priests, and sustainable, mission-ready parishes.

May God bless you abundantly.
