Eighteenth Sunday in Ordinary Time

I will leave the first reading and the Gospel for the homily today and stick with Paul's letter to the Ephesians. I was intrigued by Paul's words: "put off the old self of your former way of life...and be renewed in the spirit of your minds, and put on the new self, created in God's way in righteousness and holiness of truth."

Changing any of our bad habits is a difficult task. We only have to ask smokers, or dieters, or addicts or any of those who have made a significant change in their lives. Paul makes it sound as easy as taking off an old shirt and putting on a new one. Change in behaviors is a difficult task and takes a lot of sacrifice and determination. I continue to be inspired by the men in the ROPE program. They have decided to put off the "old self" and embrace new life. They have come to the conclusion that the "old self" wasn't working any more and they felt those NA words rang true: "I'm sick and tired of being sick and tired." What I realize from the men is that conversion in life takes all that you have. You can't sit on the fence or dabble in your old ways. Either you give it all up or you don't bother. They further realize that recovery is so much more than abstaining from alcohol and drugs but it's embracing a whole new lifestyle. It's a life that calls them to be honest and to let go of old ways of scheming and manipulating others to get what they want. They begin to look at deeper issues that have been covered over and medicated by their old selves. To take off the "old self" and put on the "new self" is a heroic journey. They continue to tell me that this difficult trek is well worth the sacrifice because they've experienced a freedom they had never known in the old lives. Putting on the "new self" has given them a new perspective on themselves, the world and all those they love.

Putting on the new self and going through conversion of heart in each of our lives is often a monumental task. It's easier to embrace the comfortable old self than to set out on a new journey of growth and conversion. So, what old parts of ourselves do we have to leave behind so new life can come? Are we addicted to food or other substances that have gotten out of control? Are we constantly filled with negativity and find ourselves fighting with those we love? Are we always worried and fearful and unable to risk anything? Are we able to forgive and move on from some of the hurts in our life? Are we stuck in judgmental attitudes or self-righteous behavior? Christ continues to call us out of the ruts of the "old self" into a freedom of life that is filled with deeper wells of love and joy. Do we really want to sit back with our comfortable old selves and slowly wither and die or are we willing to allow new life in and change some of those things that are hurting our lives? Please, let's work on one behavior that is old and stagnant and put on a new attitude that calls us to embrace our lives in a new way. Christ is waiting on the other side of our conversion to help us put on that new self!!

St. Charles Mission Statement

St. Charles Borromeo, a diverse urban parish of Detroit, is rooted in Christ's Gospel and Catholic tradition. We strive to build a community of faith through education, worship, and evangelization. We are called to carry on Christ's ministry to our brothers and sisters, especially the sick and their families, the elderly, youth, and the disabled. With Mary as our example of unconditional love, we strive to welcome everyone to share joyfully in the peace, love and salvation of Jesus Christ. We acknowledge that it is the Holy Spirit who calls and empowers us, who strengthens and renews us, and who gives us the will to continue our mission, until Jesus comes again in glory.

Stewardship Thoughts

Today, in St. John's Gospel, Jesus ties His instructions on the Eucharist to the Book of Exodus. Christ proclaims to the crowd that their ancestors ate manna in the desert from God the Father, not Moses. Jesus professes in the Gospel that He is the "Bread of Life." Those who accept His invitation and come to Him will never hunger or thirst, as they will be spiritually filled. In Ephesians, St. Paul instructs us that, through Christ, we will gain a fresh, spiritual way of thinking.

As faithful stewards, we acknowledge Jesus' true presence in the Eucharist as translated from the Greek meaning "thanksgiving." We believe the Eucharist to be the true Body and Blood, Soul and Divinity, of Christ. We stand in awe and gratitude for this tremendous gift, which opens our hearts to holiness. Plan to attend a Eucharistic Adoration and Benediction service at your parish or a regional "Awaken" service to experience Christ's peace and joy.
